SEND (Student E-Newsletters from Departments) is an official communication tool used to send messages to UNLV students. SEND collects e-mails and creates e-newsletters for students within a department and/or college. SEND was created to minimize the number of e-mails students get from UNLV, yet maximize the impact by delivering a consolidated newsletter containing each week’s important announcements or deadlines. Designated college facilitators are responsible for approving messages and sending out the newsletter each week.

Approving / Rejecting Messages

1) Click on the Inbox tab.
2) Click on the message title to view the entire message. The resulting message view will look virtually identical to what you see on the Post tab when you are submitting your own messages.
3) You can read and modify all aspects of the message except for the intended college and audience.
4) When you are finished reviewing the message and making any desired changes, click on either the Approve button or the Reject button as appropriate.

Messages that have neither been approved nor rejected will appear with an Approved status of N (Not Reviewed) until an Approve or Reject decision has been made.

Clicking on Approve will change the Approved status to A (Approved) and you will be directed back to your Inbox to view the list of submitted messages. An e-mail will be sent to the submitter notifying him/her that the message has been approved.
Clicking on Reject will change the Approved status to R (Rejected) and you will be directed to a Send reason of rejection to submitter page. Enter a reason for rejecting the message and click the Submit button.

Before the message is submitted for inclusion in the weekly SEND newsletter, you can always change the Approved status of messages. You do not need to approve or reject all unapproved messages at once.

Sending Messages (as a weekly e-newsletter)

When you are ready to send out the weekly newsletter for your college (e.g., every Friday), you can complete the following steps to submit your approved messages and compile them into your newsletter.

1) Click on the Inbox tab.
2) Check the boxes next to the Message IDs for the Approved messages (designated with an A in Status).
3) Click the Submit button at the top of the page.

Important Note: If you need to send out one or more messages immediately, you will perform the same steps as above, but only select those messages which need to go out right away. Select those messages, and click the Submit button. The others should remain unselected (but approved), and you can submit them later when you normally submit your weekly batch of newsletter messages.
